Foreword

The publishing of the Directory of the Fourth National Assembly of Cambodia is part of COMFREL's National Assembly and Member of Parliament watch program and is a continuation and updating of the Directory of the Third National Assembly of the Kingdom of Cambodia published in 2006. COMFREL would like to thank PACT-CAMBODIA for their technical assistance in the publishing of the Directory of the Third National Assembly. This Directory of the Fourth National Assembly of Cambodia is prepared for communities, organizations, institutions, and especially for the people, as a tool and source of information to better understand the processes, structure, responsibilities, rights and powers of the National Assembly and Members of Parliament in Cambodia.

The directory also provides information on each Member of Parliament's: background, contact details, educational level, and other relevant specialist skills along with their work experience and specific interests. This is intended to help improve voter's understanding of the relationship between Members of Parliament, the people, communities, institutions and other organizations.

Members of Parliament and the National Assembly play a central role in strengthening democracy, good governance, and development in response to the problems and needs of the Cambodian people. Elected by the people, Members of Parliament must serve to benefit the people and citizens have the right to pressure members of parliament to fulfill their promises and solve new issues as they arise. In order to have an effective relationship between the electorate and Members of Parliament, people need access to Members of Parliament's details and information concerning the processes of the National Assembly.

The Committee for Free and Fair Elections in Cambodia (COMFREL) highly value the cooperation of individual Members of Parliament, the National Election Committee (NEC) and other relevant institutions for providing the information which made this book possible.

COMFREL would also like to extend their gratitude to contributing donors, the UNDEF and UNDP, OXFAM NOVIB, FORUM SYD, NPA and the EC Fund and European Union for funding and encouraging us in the publishing and distribution of this book.

Thank you

KOUL Panha
Executive Director
COMFREL

Note to the publication

In compiling the directory of Members of Parliament and the National Assembly details were collected from the National Election Committee (NEC), the Secretariat of the National Assembly, website, and individual Members of Parliament.

Various sources were used to ensure that all the information in the Directory is accurate and most of the information related to Members of Parliament was provided by MPs themselves. However, we have encountered difficulties in contacting some Members of Parliament through the Secretariat of the National Assembly. In cases where Members of Parliament could not be reached the information related to those Members of Parliament was taken from other formal sources.

Although COMFREL would like to show all the information provided by Members of Parliament space in this publication is limited. Any mistakes are unintentionally. Accordingly, please contact us to report any errors or updated information.

Information that was unobtainable is marked 'N/A' in the directory. Positions in the National Assembly refers to the Members position on expert committees or commissions of the National Assembly (Chairman/Chairwoman, Vice-Chairman/Chairwoman, Secretary and members).

Thank you

Members of Parliament's opinion on this Directory

- H.E. Mr. Cheam Yeap, Member of Parliament for Prey Veng, CPP :

"I would like to thank COMFREL's colleagues [COMFREL's working group] who prepared this directory. This directory provides information about MPs to voters who can use this information and decide which candidate to vote for. Furthermore, the younger generation who would like to be the MPs in the future can prepare themselves by reading the biography of the MPs."

- H.E. Mr. Yim Sovann, Member of Parliament for Phnom Penh, SRP :

"This Directory is a useful document and it means that voters know all the MPs and can contact them with the details provided. Moreover, it also shows the educational background and professional experience of each MP to help voters make their decision in the next elections."

- H.E. Mr. Nhek Bun Chhay, Member of Parliament for Banteay Meanchey, FUNCINPEC :

"I supported the idea of preparing and producing this directory. It's a very good idea because it will provide MPs information to the public. This is very beneficial [to voters]."

- H.E. Mr. Ou Chanrith, Member of Parliament for Kandal, HRP :

"I am very interested in this directory and value the idea of producing this directory. This directory is very important in allowing voters, organizations, and other institutions to communicate with their MPs."

- H.E. Mr. Sao Rany, Member of Parliament for Prey Veng, NP :

"This directory is good because it's a mean for the voters to get to know their representative. I supported this directory because it's useful for people in general and thanks for this initiative to produce this directory."

The National Assembly

The current National Assembly originated as the Constituent Assembly, a legislative body elected during the United Nations Transitional Authority in Cambodia (UNTAC). After the 1993 election, the Constituent Assembly met and adopted a new constitution for Cambodia. After enactment of the 1993 Constitution, the Constituent Assembly was renamed the National Assembly.

The Powers and the Roles of the National Assembly and Members of Parliament

Members of Parliament shall be elected by a free, universal, equal, direct, and secret ballot. Each Member of Parliament may be re-elected after 5 years. Any imperative mandate shall be nullified.

Main Duties of the National Assembly and Members of Parliament

1. Law Adoption:

- Adopt and Amend laws for Cambodia and approve the national budget and administration accounts. [Article 90- New (Two)]
- Approve or repeal international treaties and conventions. [Article 90- New (Two)]
- Initiate legislation. (New Article 91- New)

2. Vote of confidence or no confidence in the Royal Government:

- Shall pass a vote of confidence in the Royal Government. [Article 90-New (Two)]
- Dismiss any members of the Council of Ministers, or the Royal Government, by a motion of censure passed by an absolute majority vote of all Members of the National Assembly. (Article 98- New)

3. Oversight:

- Shall have the right to propose questions to the Royal Government. The replies by the ministers or by the Prime Minister may be given orally or in writing. The replies shall be provided within seven days after the day the question is received. (Article 96)
- Oversee royal government performance and invite high ranking officials to clarify important special issues to the National Assembly. (Article 89)
- The commissions of the National Assembly may invite any minister to clarify issues in fields under his/her responsibility. (Article 97)
- Oversee the law enforcement.

4. Representative

- The Members of the National Assembly shall represent all the Khmer people, not only citizens from their constituencies. (Article 77)
- Play an important role in helping citizens have their voice in society and to bring people's concern and needs for decisions to [the National Assembly and Royal Government]
- Intervene and solve problems faced by citizens.
- Member of Parliament have the right to express opinions in the exercise of his/her duties [especially for the benefit of citizens] protected by "Parliamentary Immunity" and shall not be prosecuted, detained or arrested because of opinions expressed in the exercise of his/her duties, except in case of flagrante delicto offences. (Article 80)

Essentials qualification for being a candidate for election

- Open to men and women (Article 76)
- Must have the right to vote (Article 76)
- At least 25 years old (Article 76)
- Khmer nationality at birth (Article 76)

An open, Public, and Transparent Legislation process

Transparency in lawmaking is a key element for any democracy. With rare exceptions, whenever proposed laws are discussed or votes are cast, the proceedings should be open for all citizens to observe. Otherwise, the public cannot adequately judge the quality of the decisions made by their elected representative. The constitution states that:

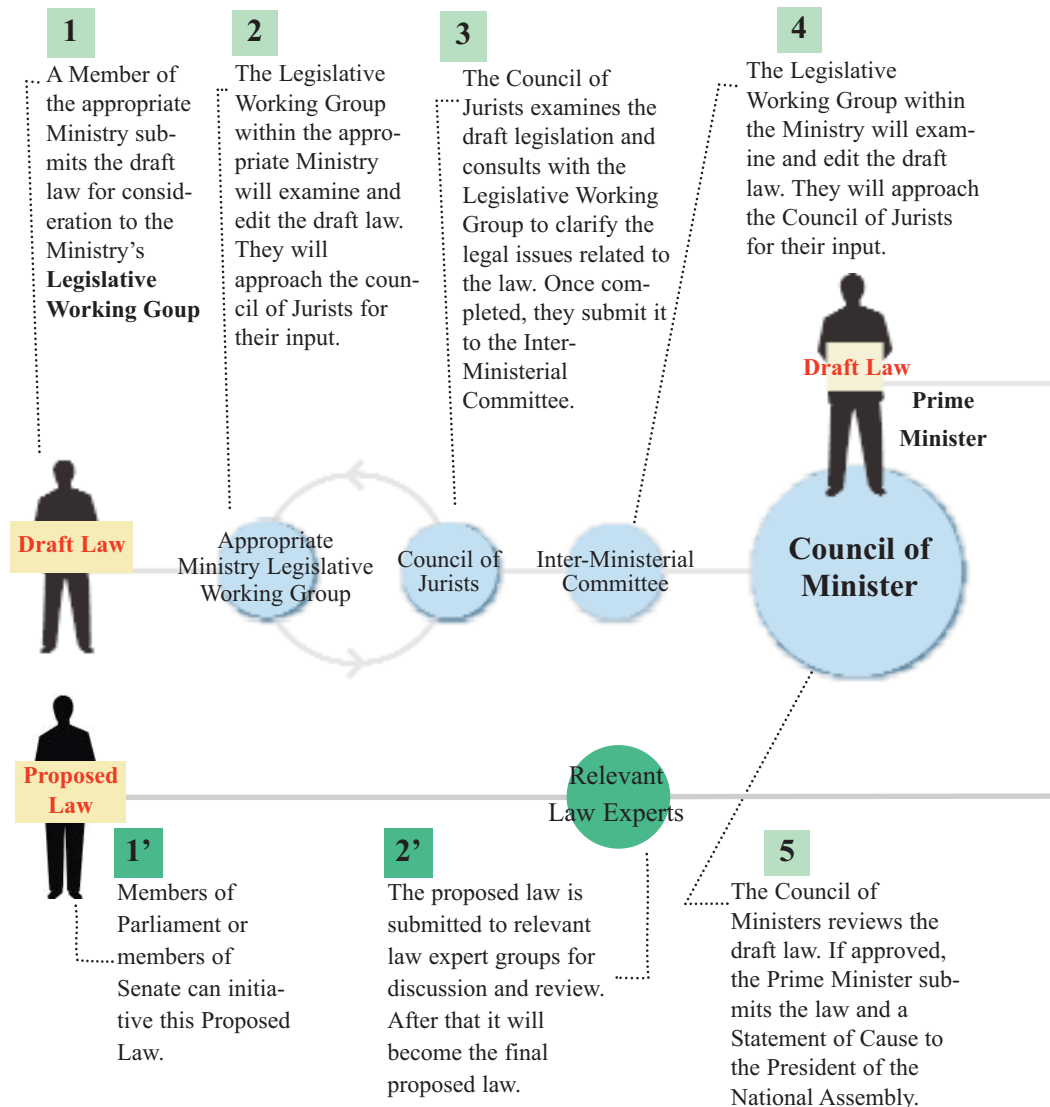

- Laws that are signed by the King for promulgation shall be published in the Royal Gazette and announced to the public throughout the country. (Article 93- New)
- National Assembly sessions shall be held in public. [Article 88- New (Two)]
- The National Assembly holds ordinary sessions twice a year. Each session shall last at least three months. (Article 83)

Rights of the public and MPs

- Elect MPs in elections using Political Party List System
- Express opinions on draft law or proposed law before adoption
- Ask MPs or the National Assembly to intervene on other issues
- Observe plenary sessions of the National Assembly

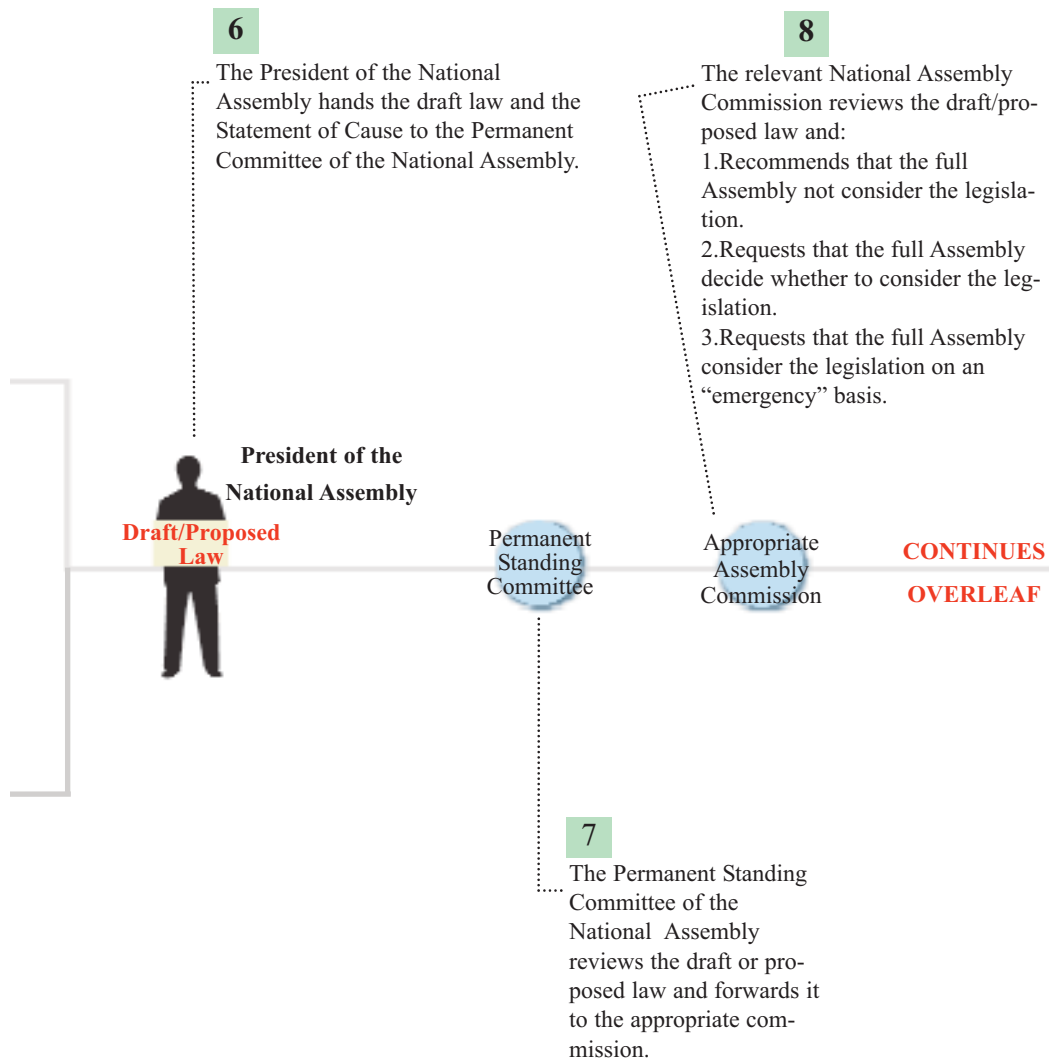

The Legislative Process

Any Member of the National Assembly may propose legislation - referred to as Proposed Law. A Proposed Law must be written, divided into articles and accompanied by a statement of cause explaining why the Proposed Law is needed. The Proposed Law is forwarded to the appropriate Commission for review.

Alternatively, a law initiated by a particular Ministry of the Council of Ministers is called Draft Legislation. The Council of Ministers reviews and may approve the Draft Legislation. The Council of Ministers then submits the Draft Legislation and a statement of cause to the Permanent Standing Committee of the National Assembly. The Permanent Standing Committee reviews the Draft Legislation and forwards it to the appropriate Commission. Below is an example of a legislative process:

The National Assembly Structure

¹Groups of parliamentarian is not clearly defined in the National Assembly structure yet.

President of the National Assembly

- To guarantee the execution of the National Assembly as stated in the Constitution
- Chair the assembly session
- Hold and postpone the assembly session

Directory of the Fourth National Assembly of Cambodia (2008-2013)

- Receive draft bills and resolutions approved by the National Assembly
- Arrange discussions and sign the minutes of the assembly sessions
- Ensure the implementation of Internal Regulations
- Maintain discipline in the National Assembly
- Represent the National Assembly in communications with the King and public authorities
- Organize the international relations of the National Assembly

Vice-President of the National Assembly

Both 1st and 2nd Vice-Presidents assist the President. If the President of the National Assembly is absent or unable to perform his/her duties, a Vice-President shall replace him in the status of Acting-President by authorized letter.

Permanent Standing Committee of the National Assembly

- Prepare Agendas for the assembly session
- Receive and handover draft or proposed laws for expert commissions to examine
- Arrange the work of the National Assembly between National Assembly sessions
- Decide on the budget plan of the National Assembly
- Set remuneration of MPs, awards, and discipline

Commissions of the National Assembly

Commissions of the National Assembly has a duty to examine draft or proposed laws which given by the Permanent Standing Committee under his/her responsibility and may invite any minister to clarify issues in fields under his/her responsibility.

Groups of Member of Parliament

Groups of MPs also have a structure (although it is not clearly stated as part of the structure of the National Assembly). The group of MPs is created to facilitate the National Assembly session discussions. An MP can only express his/her opinion during the National Assembly session if he/she is the member of a group.

The group of MPs shall have at least 10 MPs. Each MP can be a member of only one group which contains one chairman/woman, a vice-chairman/woman and members. Any MPs from a party holding less than 10 seats shall join with another group [provision 48 new (2) of internal regulations of the National Assembly]

Permanent Standing Committee of the National Assembly

Since the National Assembly holds ordinary sessions twice a year, the Permanent Standing Committee manages the work whenever the National Assembly is not in session. The Standing Committee of the National Assembly consists of the President of the National Assembly, the Vice-Presidents and all the Chairpersons of the National Assembly Commissions. (Article 84)

Commissions of The National Assembly

Under the Constitution, the National Assembly is allowed to establish legislative commissions. (Article 94)

Currently, there are nine Commissions; each consisting of a Chairperson, Vice-Chairperson, and Secretary who are elected by the National Assembly. Each Commission consists of at least seven members.

Individual Commissions focus on specific areas and oversee the work of the Ministry (or Ministers) responsible for that sector. For example, the Commission on Economics, Finance, Banking, and Audit examines the activities of the Ministry of Economics and Finance and the National Bank of Cambodia.

To fulfill its responsibility, each Commission may request that members of the Royal Government appear in person in order to respond to questions. The Commission may also require Ministers to reply to questions in writing.

The Secretariat of National Assembly

The Secretariat, the administrative arm of the National Assembly, consists of the Secretary General, Deputy secretaries General, and other staff members. The officers and staff of the Secretariat are not elected officials nor are they appointed by any political party. The secretary general and deputy secretaries general are appointed by Royal Decree on proposal of the President of the National Assembly. The remaining staff are nominated by the President of the National Assembly on the proposal of the Secretary General.

The Secretary General is responsible for maintaining the documents and records of the National Assembly and the Commissions, preparing reports required by the National Assembly, and managing administrative affairs and all contacts outside the Assembly.

Relevant Provisions of the Constitution

(Published by the Secretary General of Senate 2008)

CHAPTER VII: THE NATIONAL ASSEMBLY

Article 76:

The National Assembly shall consist of at least 120 Members.

The Members shall be elected by a free, universal, equal, direct and secret ballot.

The Members may be re-elected.

Candidates for election to the National Assembly shall be Khmer citizens of either sex, have the rights to vote, be at least 25 years of age and have Khmer nationality at birth.

The organization responsible for conducting the election, electoral procedures and processes shall be determined by an electoral law.

Article 77:

The Members of the National Assembly shall represent all the Khmer people, not only citizens from their constituencies.

Any imperative mandate shall be nullified.

Article 78:

The term of the National Assembly is five years and ends on the day when the new National Assembly takes office. The National Assembly shall not be dissolved before the end of its term except when the Royal Government is twice deposed within a period of twelve months.

In this case, the King shall dissolve the National Assembly, upon a request by the Prime Minister and with the approval of the President of the National Assembly.

The election of a new National Assembly shall be held no later than sixty days from the date of the dissolution. During this period, the Royal Government shall only be empowered to conduct routine business.

In time of war or other special circumstances when an election cannot be held, the National Assembly may extend its term for one year at a time, at the request of the King.

The declaration of an extension of the National Assembly's term must be approved by at least a two-thirds majority vote of all Members of the National Assembly.

Article 79:

A Member of the National Assembly shall not hold any active public function and be a member of other institutions provided for in the Constitution, except when a National Assembly Member is required to serve in the Council of Ministers of the Royal Government.

In this case, the said National Assembly Member shall remain a Member of the National Assembly but may not hold any position on the Standing Committee or on other Commissions of the National Assembly.

Article 80:

Members of the National Assembly shall enjoy parliamentary immunity.

No Member of the National Assembly shall be prosecuted, detained or arrested because of opinions expressed in the exercise of his/her duties.

A Member of the National Assembly may only be prosecuted, arrested or detained with the permission of the National Assembly or by the Standing Committee of the National Assembly between sessions, except in case of flagrante delicto offences. In that case, the competent authority shall immediately report to the National Assembly or to the Standing Committee and request permission.

The decision of the Standing Committee of the National Assembly shall be submitted to the National Assembly at its next session, for approval by a two thirds majority vote of all Members of the National Assembly.

In any case, the detention or prosecution of a Member of the National Assembly shall be suspended if the National Assembly requires that the detention or prosecution be suspended by a three quarter majority vote of all Members of the National Assembly.

Article 81:

The National Assembly shall have an autonomous budget for the conduct of its functions. The Members of the National Assembly shall receive remuneration.

Article 82- New (As amended March 2006):

The National Assembly shall hold its initial session no later than sixty days after the election, and as convened by the King.

Before starting its work, the National Assembly shall confirm the validity of each Member's mandate and vote separately to choose its President, Vice-Presidents and all members of various Commissions of the National Assembly, by an absolute majority vote of all Members of the National Assembly.

Directory of the Fourth National Assembly of Cambodia (2008-2013)

The National Assembly shall adopt its internal regulations by an absolute majority vote of all Members of the National Assembly.

All National Assembly Members shall, before taking office, take an Oath of Allegiance as contained in Annex 5 of this Constitution.

Article 83:

The National Assembly holds ordinary sessions twice a year.

Each session shall last at least three months. At the request of the King, or the Prime Minister, or at least one third of the National Assembly Members, the National Assembly Standing Committee shall convene in an extraordinary session of the National Assembly.

The agenda and the date of the extraordinary session shall be disseminated to the population.

Article 84:

Between National Assembly sessions, the Standing Committee of the National Assembly shall manage the work of the National Assembly.

The Standing Committee of the National Assembly consists of the President of the National Assembly, the Vice-Presidents and all Chairpersons of the National Assembly Commissions.

Article 85:

The National Assembly sessions shall be held in the Capital city of Cambodia in the Assembly Hall unless, due to special circumstances, stipulated otherwise in the summons. Except where so stipulated and unless held at the place and date as stipulated, any meeting of the National Assembly shall be considered completely illegal, null and void.

Article 86:

Under some circumstances when the country is in a state of emergency, the National Assembly shall meet every day. The National Assembly has the rights to declare the above special circumstances terminated whenever the situation permits.

If the National Assembly is not able to meet because of circumstances such as the occupation of the country by foreign forces, the declaration of the state of emergency is automatically extended.

During the state of emergency, the National Assembly shall not be dissolved.

Article 87:

The President of the National Assembly shall chair the assembly sessions, receive draft bills and resolutions approved by the National Assembly, ensure the implementation of the Internal Regulations and organize the international relations of the National Assembly.

If the President of the National Assembly is unable to perform his/her duties due to illness, or due to fulfilling of the functions of Acting Head of State or as a Regent, or due to being on a mission abroad, a Vice-President shall replace him.

If the President or a Vice-President resigns or dies, the National Assembly shall elect a new President or Vice-President.

Article 88- New (Two) (As amended March 2006):

National Assembly sessions shall be held in public.

At the request of the President or of at least one tenth of its Members, or of the King or of the Prime Minister, the National Assembly shall hold closed sessions. Sessions of the National Assembly shall be considered valid, only if:

A. There is a quorum of more than two thirds of all National Assembly Members, for any votes which require a two-thirds majority of all Members.

B. There is a quorum of more than a half of all National Assembly Members for any votes which require an absolute majority of all Members.

Article 89:

Upon the request of at least one tenth of its Members, the National Assembly shall invite high ranking officials to clarify important special issues to the National Assembly.

Article 90- New (Two) (As amended March 2006):

The National Assembly is an organ that has a legislative power and performs its duties as provided for in the Constitution and laws in force.

The National Assembly shall approve the national budget, State planning, lending, borrowing, financial contracts, and the imposition, modification or abolition of taxes.

The National Assembly shall approve administration accounts.

The National Assembly shall adopt a law on general amnesty.

The National Assembly shall approve or repeal international treaties and conventions.

The National Assembly shall adopt a law on the proclamation of war.

The adoptions and approvals referred to in the previous clauses shall be agreed by an absolute majority vote of all Members of the National Assembly.

Directory of the Fourth National Assembly of Cambodia (2008-2013)

The National Assembly shall pass a vote of confidence in the Royal Government by an absolute majority vote of all Members.

New Article 91- New (As amended March 1999):

The Senators, the Members of the National Assembly and the Prime Minister shall have the rights to initiate legislation.

Members of the National Assembly shall have the rights to propose amendments to the laws but proposed amendments cannot be accepted if they might have the effect of reducing public income or increasing the burden on the people.

Article 92:

Any decision of the National Assembly that contradicts the principles of preserving national independence, sovereignty, territorial integrity of the Kingdom of Cambodia and affects the political unity or the administration of the nation, shall be annulled. The Constitutional Council is the only organ which may annul the decision.

Article 93- New (As amended March 1999):

Any laws approved by the National Assembly, reviewed by the Senate and signed by the King for promulgation, shall come into force in Phnom Penh ten days after the date of promulgation and throughout the rest of the country twenty days after the date of promulgation. If the law is stipulated as urgent, it shall come into force throughout the country immediately after promulgation.

Laws that are signed by the King for promulgation shall be published in the Royal Gazette and announced to the public throughout the country in accordance with the time-frame set out above.

Article 94:

The National Assembly may establish such commissions as it considers necessary. The organization and functioning of the National Assembly shall be determined by the Internal Regulations of the National Assembly.

Article 95:

If a Member of the National Assembly dies, resigns, or is dismissed more than six months before the end of the term of the National Assembly, a replacement shall be appointed in accordance with the Internal Regulations of the National Assembly and the Electoral Law.

Article 96:

Members of the National Assembly shall have the rights to propose questions to the Royal Government. The questions shall be submitted in writing through the President of the National Assembly.

Directory of the Fourth National Assembly of Cambodia (2008-2013)

The replies shall be given by one or several ministers depending on whether the subject of the question relates to the responsibilities of one or several ministers. If the question concerns the overall policy of the Royal Government, the Prime Minister shall reply in person.

The replies by the ministers or by the Prime Minister may be given orally or in writing.

The replies shall be provided within seven days after the day the question is received.

In the case of an oral reply, the President of the National Assembly shall decide whether to hold an open debate or not. If there is no open debate, the reply by the minister(s) or the Prime Minister shall be considered final. If there is an open debate, the questioner(s), other speakers and relevant ministers, or the Prime Minister may exchange views within a time-frame, not exceeding one session.

The National Assembly shall allow one day a week for providing answers to questions. There shall be no vote during any question-and-answer session.

Article 97:

The commissions of the National Assembly may invite any minister to clarify issues in fields under his/her responsibility.

Article 98- New (As amended March 2006):

The National Assembly may dismiss any members of the Council of Ministers, or the Royal Government, by a motion of censure passed by an absolute majority vote of all Members of the National Assembly.

The National Assembly may deliberate on a motion of censure only if it has been requested by at least 30 Members of the National Assembly.
